AHIS400020: MUSEOLOGY IN FLORENCE

This newly devised study abroad subject will be taught over three weeks, from 25th November to 15th December 2013. It will investigate Florence's significant museums and historic collections in order to understand their place in the origin and development of the museum from the Renaissance to today. The subject will include regular site visits to a diverse range of museums, galleries and temporary exhibition spaces, including the Galleria degli Uffizi, the Palazzo Pitti, the Galleria dell'Accademia, the Bargello and the Casa Buonarroti among other institutions.
